"Being invited by Thudippu to conduct a Chavittunadakam workshop on the 26th felt especially meaningful to me. The workshop brought together children, adults, women of different age groups, and many people who are actively involved in the arts. Everyone participated so wholeheartedly listening, asking questions, engaging, and learning together. I truly hope that each person who was there took away something meaningful from the experience.

For me, this was one of those days that will remain very special in my life. The love, encouragement, and kind words I received from everyone meant so much to me.

And if anyone comes forward in the future wanting to learn more about Chavittunadakam, have conversations around it, or organise something connected to the art form, I would be more than happy to collaborate and be part of it."
