- Eye-hand co-ordination activities
- Artwork and storytelling

Time

1 hour

Activity

The children tried basic body movements, animal movements and open-and-close movements. They also practised eye-hand co-ordination.

They also made art and told stories. This gave them ways to use their imagination and show their creativity.

Outcome

Body awareness Coordination

The children explored different kinds of movement and took part in activities involving eye–hand coordination. They also engaged with art and storytelling, expressing ideas through movement and creative activities.
